The environment plays an important role in our lives. Clean air, fresh water, and green spaces make the world a better place to live. However, pollution is becoming a serious problem. People throw rubbish in the streets, use too much plastic, and wastewater. Factories and vehicles release harmful gases into the air, causing air pollution. Cutting down too many trees leads to deforestation, which affects animals and climate.

To protect the environment, we must take action. First, we should reduce waste by using reusable bags, bottles, and containers. Recycling paper, plastic, and glass helps save natural resources. Second, saving water and electricity is important. Turning off taps and lights when not needed can make a big difference. Third, planting more trees is important because they improve air quality and provide homes for animals. Instead of using cars or motorbikes, riding bicycles or walking can reduce air pollution.

Everyone has a responsibility to care for the environment. Small actions, when done by many people, can lead to big changes. If we protect nature today, we will have a cleaner and greener world in the future. Let's work together to save our planet!
